

BUILDING OUR SKILLS

MAKING FENESTRATION A CAREER OF CHOICE

Introduction to Window and Door Installation

Why this course?

There is a growing need for trained window and door installers in both the residential and commercial sectors to meet the current and future demands of the fenestration industry.

The aim of this practical training course is to give those attending it a good initial insight into the skills, knowledge and understanding needed to install windows and doors to the required standard.

This course will give attendees a good grounding in what the fenestration industry is about and what it takes to become a competent window and door installer.

This course has been accredited by GQA Qualifications Ltd and on successful completion of the end of course assessment successful attendees will be provided with a certificate and a GQA Skills Card.

Course programme

This course takes place both online and in the classroom and is designed to last for 3 days overall.

Online Content

Prior to attending the practical training those who register for the course are required to take an initial online training course. This will provide a good overview of the fenestration industry, the markets it covers, jobs roles and functions in the industry and the skills required to be an installer.

Practical Training

The practical part of the training takes place over 2 days in our Training Academy in Sheffield. The 2 days are a mixture of both theory and practical training which will take attendees through the whole process of removing windows and doors through to installing windows and doors and finishing the job.

Course objectives

At the end of this course attendees will:

- Understand what the fenestration industry is and the different markets and job roles which make up the industry
- Identify the different components which make up windows and doors
- Understand how to remove windows and doors safely without damaging the surrounding areas
- Understand how to install windows and doors to meet set quality standards
- Understand the health and safety requirements relating to window and door removal and installation
- Understand the appropriate Building Regulations which have an impact on window and door installation
